

Brian Casey
Executive Director

“Caplor Horizons were extremely well-prepared and clearly invested a lot of time and thought into the best approach for our relatively young and somewhat unique organisation. They brought great clarity and structure to this board effectiveness review by not only focusing on what the board has achieved to date but also keeping a constant firm eye on where we are going and how we will get there.”

“The Irish Emergency Alliance is a membership organisation, made up of seven Irish registered charities working on international humanitarian emergency relief. Our members are ActionAid, Christian Aid, Plan International, Self Help Africa, Tearfund, Trócaire and World Vision. Together, our members have programmes in a total of 85 different disaster-affected countries across the globe giving the Irish Emergency Alliance a very significant presence to respond quickly to an emergency. The Irish Emergency Alliance is a joint appeals mechanism where Irish humanitarian organisations agree to consolidate our fundraising efforts, demonstrating to the public that we can work together and reduce our administrative and fundraising costs. At the time of major humanitarian emergencies, our members come together to raise money from the Irish public in a coordinated manner.

The Irish Emergency Alliance engaged Caplor Horizons in 2022 to undertake a board effectiveness review as well as to provide a road map for what we planned to achieve for the remainder of our current strategic plan and start the planning process for the next one. As a comparatively new organisation and venture in Ireland, the open, friendly and engaging process adopted by Caplor Horizons enabled us to galvanise relationships, identify preferences, strengthen team-working, celebrate strengths and identify priorities.

The Irish Emergency Alliance has a strong board consisting of the seven CEOs of its member agencies plus 4 independent directors. All are well-established strategic thinkers and it was great to work with the Caplor Horizon team who share a similar thought-process and ‘big picture’ mindset to ourselves.

The detailed and comprehensive methodology agreed with Caplor Horizons involved a number of interlinked parts: two face-to-face meetings with the full board; analysis of semi-structured interviews held with all board members and other key personnel; analysis and feedback from a Board Self-Assessment exercise; and an assessment against the Charities Regulator’s Governance Code standards. Everything was documented and presented in a very thorough and comprehensive report for submission to the Board.

Caplor Horizons were extremely well-prepared and clearly invested a lot of time and thought into the best approach for our relatively young and somewhat unique organisation. They brought great clarity and structure to this board effectiveness review by not only focusing on what the board has achieved to date but also keeping a constant firm eye on where we are going and how we will get there.

Irish Emergency Alliance

Brian Casey
Executive Director

Caplor Horizons has a great team of professionals with complimentary skillsets and expertise – many of whom fed into our process. We predominantly worked with Ian Williams; Kemal Shaheen; Lorna Pearcey and Iain Patton. The feedback from the board regarding the approach and Caplor Horizons team was extremely positive – so much so that a number of our members have engaged them separately on other pieces of strategic work internally to their organisations.

We went out to tender for this work and were delighted to select Caplor Horizons who offered an exceptionally good support package which clearly demonstrated good value for money.

Part of the Caplor Horizons support package included individual coaching sessions with one of their colleagues, Iain Patton. I have found this to be extremely rewarding and useful particularly in helping me deal with the multitude of challenges facing a start-up and alliance organisation.

I think the greatest benefit we derived from the process was the absolute clarity and affirmation of why we are working together and what we want to achieve for Ireland as an Alliance. The Caplor Horizons team helped galvanise us around our vision and mission which left us with a renewed sense of common purpose and drive.

Without question, Caplor Horizons went above and beyond their commitment to the Irish Emergency Alliance and delivered a highly-professional and valued service to us. They were very empathetic and encouraging in all their communications with me and my entire Board. They were an absolute pleasure to work with from the get-go. We are already in dialogue with Caplor Horizons with regards to supporting us with our second strategic planning process.”